Proposal for support from the Alec Dale Fund

This fund, established by Dr. Alec Dale, former Professor of Psychology and now Professor Emeritus, is to support recent Allegheny College graduates with expenses related to presenting their Senior Comprehensive Project at a national or international research seminar/conference within one year of their graduation. Preference shall be given to graduates of the Neuroscience Program and/or the Psychology Department.

Students wishing to apply for funds must submit this proposal at least six weeks in advance of the anticipated travel. Given the large number of students in the Psychology Department, applicants should expect only partial reimbursement for travel expenses.

Please attach a brief supporting memo from your academic advisor or senior project first reader and submit this form to the Chair of the Psychology Department.
